SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

LONDON, FRIDAY NIGHT.

Brisk sport will again be the order of the day to-morrow, and, granted a continuance of the present ideal weather, another large attendance is assured. The going is excellent, and the aggregate of runners is again be large. The chief event is the Windsor Handicap. The distance will suit HUNT LAW, and he has my vote. Thusby ran well behind Holbeach at Doncaster, and should provide the greatest danger. My other selections are:—
Frogmore Handicap—Young Visiter.
Lock Handicap—Singing Girl.
Paddock Stakes—Chevington.
Ivor Handicap—Dusky Bride colt.
Mill House Plate—Perse's selected.

PHŒNIX PARK MEETING—THIS DAY.

To-day's meeting at Phœnix Park will provide an appropriate wind-up to a very busy week's racing. An excellent programme has been arranged, and with the going in capital order, runners should be forthcoming in satisfactory numbers. Three of the half-dozen nicely endowed events are confined to first season horses, and these is well represented in the entry for these, whilst the other items also look like furnishing interesting sport, so that the prospects are promising. Selections are appended:—

Country Plate—Southend or Harry Hart.
Liffey Plate—The Orlock.
Two-Year-Old Plate—Snow Ball or O'Malley Mor.
Nursery Plate—Corsie.

AYR MEETING—YESTERDAY.

AYR GOLD CUP
WON BY SELF SACRIFICE.
AN EXCITING FINISH.

With the conditions so delightful, it was not surprising that the Ayr Gold Cup proved as great an attraction as the Ayrshire Handicap had been, judging by the interest and the crowd. It had by no means been a record attendance on Thursday, for Mr. David Shaw, the clerk of the course, tells me the receipts were a few hundred pounds below last year.

It was a reflection on the conditions which allow King Sol to run in selling plates that he should figure as top weight with 10st. 5lb. in the Ayr Gold Cup. Needless to say, he did not run, nor yet did another penalised horse, Foiret. Nevertheless, there was a huge field of particularly good-looking horses. The handicapper had been most happy in allotting the weights of Forest Guard and White Bud, and, on form, there was little between them, so it was not surprising to find them almost equal favourites.

Forest Guard, no doubt, found the burden too big, but White Bud was concerned in a most exciting finish, for it was by a short head only that she was beaten by Self Sacrifice. The latter got first run, and just maintained the advantage, but with a little further to go the positions, no doubt, would have been reversed. Self Sacrifice had been second to Service Kit at Manchester, but was readily beaten. He had evidently improved in the interim. He was certainly not winning out of his turn, and his trainer, Bazley, was congratulated all round on the change of his run of bad luck.

Master Rufus, second in the Scottish Derby, was brought out again in the St. Quivox Handicap, and Dan Donoghue in the saddle, but this distance appeared too far for him, and he was outstayed by Athasi, who had been the Ayrshire Handicap trial horse for Royal Ashe. He is a genuine stayer, and is probably more reliable in public than Royal Ashe, who, I understand, was the winner of the trial.

Next week Donoghue rides at Lanark and Newbury, whilst Shatwell will be seen in the saddle at Leicester and Newbury. The following jockeys are engaged at Lanark and Edinburgh:—W. Bullock, Parker, P. Jones, Gardner, Ringstead, Thwaites, Ledson, Burns, Gordon, Calder, Crisp, Riley, Robertson, and Taylor.

NEW CHURCH TO
OUR LADY OF LOURDES,
LR. GLOUCESTER STREET, DUBLIN.
A temporary Edifice has been erected on the site secured for the New Church, which is badly needed in this locality.
It is already crowded, and the Shrine has aroused a deep spirit of Devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes, with most beneficial results among the people.
The Accommodation afforded by the Temporary Structure is inadequate. The Administrator strongly appeals to the Catholics of Dublin and of Ireland for the means to undertake the building of the New Church. The district being one of the most densely populated and poorest in the city, little pecuniary aid can be expected from it.
The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered EACH WEEK for Subscribers.
Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Clergy, or by

Work and Wages.

Sir Alfred Mond's Committee on unemployment has approved of two schemes for the relief of distress. There is nothing very startling in either of them, and in this fact, possibly, their chief virtue is to be found. When it was reported some days ago that Dr. Macnamara had proposed a system of camouflaged doles which would cost the Treasury £10,000,000, the taxpayers began to feel seriously alarmed. Fortunately, Sir Robert Horne had gauged the public temper with accuracy and refused to sanction so much expenditure. Sir Alfred Mond's scheme, if worked properly by the local authorities, should go a long way towards the absorption of the unemployed into profitable or, at any rate, economic undertakings. The Government proposes to make certain grants to the local authorities throughout Great Britain in order that they may be able to put in hand or accelerate the promotion of approved works—revenue-producing or otherwise—which, without a grant, would have been impossible at the present time. In the case of works which will yield no revenue the grant will amount to 50 per cent. of the interest and sinking fund on loans that the local authorities will raise in the open market, for half of the term of the loans, up to a maximum of fifteen years. In the case of works which will produce revenue the grant will amount to 50 per cent. of the interest on loans raised for not less than ten years, and will extend over a period of five years. In both cases the Government will expect unemployed persons to be given work as soon as possible and will require that preference shall be given to men who served in the war.

The London Labour Mayors, who were received by the Cabinet Committee yesterday, do not approve of Sir Alfred Mond's proposal; but what is their alternative? If the antics of some of the Metropolitan Councils be any criterion, Labour wants the taxpayers to maintain all the unemployed for an indefinite period at full trade union rates of pay. Frivolous disregard of economic laws has been the principal cause of the country's present plight, and its industrial health never can be restored until it obeys those laws again. Sir Alfred Mond's schemes will not provide work for every workless man and woman in the country to-morrow morning. They can be expected only to take the edge off the acute distress which is so prevalent in certain parts of Great Britain,

MR. DE VALERA'S MOVE.

TELEGRAM TO PREMIER.

ESSENTIAL CONDITION OF CONFERENCE.

CABINET TO MEET NEXT WEEK.

REPORTED MINISTERIAL CRISIS.

Peace prospects last night were regarded as more hopeful.

Mr. Lloyd George's message cancelling the conference arrangements caused depression early in the day, but in the evening Mr. de Valera telegraphed a reply which was interpreted as a desire to keep the door still open.

Mr. de Valera expresses surprise that the Prime Minister should fail to see Sinn Fein's predicament.

He explains that by entering the conference without making their position clear, Sinn Fein's representatives would be misunderstood, and the "cause of Ireland's right" would be "irreparably damaged."

Finally, Mr. de Valera says:—"In a case like this, if there is to be any result, the negotiators must meet without prejudice, and untrammelled by any conditions whatsoever except those imposed by the facts as they know them."

The message, on the face of it, does not advance things much, but it is framed so as to invite an answer from the Premier, and that fact has rekindled hope.

The Prime Minister is recovering from his chill, and it is expected that a Cabinet meeting will take place next week at Inverness.

Reports from London suggest that Mr. de Valera's telegram may precipitate a crisis.

The purport of his message is regarded as transferring responsibility for the future of negotiations to the Cabinet, and it is said that, should it be decided to admit the Sinn Fein delegates, untrammelled by conditions, to a conference, at least two Unionist Ministers are prepared to resign.

"I AM SURPRISED."

MR. DE VALERA TO THE PREMIER.

A statement issued yesterday by the Publicity Department of Dail Eireann says that, on receipt of Mr. Lloyd George's telegram, Mr. de Valera telegraphed the following reply:—

16th September, 1921.

SIR,—I received your telegram last night.

I am surprised that you do not see that if we, on our side, accepted the conference on the basis of your letter of September 7th without making our position equally clear, Ireland's representatives would enter the Conference with their position misunderstood, and the cause of Ireland's right irreparably prejudiced.

Throughout the correspondence that has taken place you have defined your Government's position. We have defined ours. If the positions are not so definitely opposed, there would, indeed, be no problem to discuss.

It should be obvious that in a case like this, if there is to be any result, the negotiators must meet without prejudice, and untrammelled by any conditions whatsoever, except those imposed by the facts as they know them.

EAMON DE VALERA.

FROM DISMAY TO HOPE.

FEELING IN DUBLIN.

Mr. Lloyd George's telegram, cancelling the Inverness Conference, was received with feelings of dismay last Saturday afternoon, and that feeling was deepened when it was felt that the peace negotiations had broken down, and that, unless other influences prevailed, the prospects of a settlement were remote.

Mr. de Valera's telegram to the Prime Minister, which was issued last evening, gave hopes, however, that the door to peace was not finally closed, and that a way to a settlement might still be found.

There was much activity at the Dublin Mansion House yesterday. Mr. de Valera did not arrive until the afternoon, when he received a deputation from County Armagh, protesting against its inclusion in the Northern Parliament.

PRIVY COUNCIL MEETING.

The Lord Lieutenant presided yesterday at a meeting of the Privy Council, which was held in Dublin Castle. It is understood that the meeting had been summoned for the purpose of swearing new members, and that it had no intention whatever to the situation developed as the result of the Premier's message to Mr. de Valera, cancelling the proposed Conference at Inverness.

PREMIER'S HEALTH.

CABINET TO MEET NEXT WEEK.

The latest news received at 10 Downing street with reference to the Prime Minister is that, while he is still in bed, his condition has improved. He is suffering from a severe chill, attended by headache and neuralgia. It is a fact that Lord Dawson, the King's physician, has visited Mr. Lloyd George has no special significance. Lord Dawson, who is the Prime Minister's medical adviser, happens to be on holiday in the neighbourhood of Gairloch.

The Lord Chancellor and Lady Birkenhead have arrived on their yacht at Gairloch, and have called at Flowerdale.

The Press Association adds:—In view of the development in the Irish situation an early meeting of the Cabinet has become imperative, and it is hoped that Mr. Lloyd George may be able to meet his colleagues in Council early next week. A Council is likely to meet at Inverness on Tuesday or Wednesday.

ULSTER AND PEACE.

CABINET'S ATTITUDE.

The dramatic termination of the negotiations for a Peace Conference caused some surprise here, writes our Belfast Correspondent. It is the general opinion in the North that the Sinn Fein leaders are obsessed with an idealism that is not practical politics, and until they come down to earth there can be no hope of securing that peace which alone can lead to the prosperity and future development of the country. The position is not one which, it is believ

THOUGHTS AND THEORIES.

BACKWARD OR FORWARD?

IRELAND'S GREAT EXPERIMENT.

BOAR'S HILL.

(BY C. H. S.)

THE NEW IRELAND.

It now seems reasonably certain (or, at least, so it seemed two days ago) that those of us who have not already left the prime of life for behind us will live to see a Parliament of Irishmen conducting their country's affairs. The precise nature and scope of its activities may yet to be decided, and do not affect in any way the observations which I am about to make. There seems to be some difference of opinion among Irishmen as to the cause of their countrymen's insuperable distaste for what one may call the British connection, though all are agreed that it goes deeper than the political grievances that have inflamed their passions and inspired their orators for centuries. Some declare that the Irish long to be free because they are inhabited by a subconscious urge to advance to the fulfilment of a civilization of their own, differing entirely from, but comparable in its results with, the civilisations of Greece and Rome. Others remind us that at some unspecified period of the remote past Ireland really had its own civilisation, and that this will blossom again into life as soon as political independence allows the Irish people to feed the retarded, but still vigorous, plant.

As between these two intellectual groups—those who look forward to an Irish civilisation and those who look backward for it—there is one thing in common, that both are agreed that in praesenti Ireland has nothing that can properly be called civilisation unless it be that superficial veneer of Mediterranean culture that the Anglo-Irish aristocracy have maintained, not without distinction, at Trinity College and elsewhere, but which the Gael as a whole has refused to adopt. When the Irish Parliament meets, it will accordingly find itself confronted with the task of laying, by the enactment of wise and beneficent laws, the foundations of the new, or, as the case may be, of the resuscitated civilisation that a self-developing Ireland is destined to enjoy. It will find sufficient to do, it is hoped, confined to its behests a people that has no conception of what the new civilisation is to be like or, in the alternative, of the direction in which the ancient civilisation is tending. Their only definite idea will be a determination not to have the British—that is to say, the Mediterranean—civilisation at any price.

The peculiar difficulty of their constituents will make it a comparatively easy task for the Irish Solons to launch the ship of Irish culture in whatever direction they have in mind. But, if it is to be realised, it is essential that some very positive direction be taken. Otherwise the British civilisation will continue to assert itself as it does now by sheer force of correct events. There are indications that the new Irish Parliament will grudge every British institution now existing in Ireland with an Irish counterpart, whether it be of new or of old devising. Nor will such a prosecution as needs to be undertaken in any sense to implore. All nations would one another's existence and institutions to a considerable extent, the desire to be different from (and of course superior to) one's neighbours being quite often the chief inducement to change.

On the other hand, it is quite unlikely that any of the legislative measures that will be enacted for the establishment of the new Ireland will involve the responsibility which they are undertaking, or will have devoted any time to reviewing the position with which they will be faced, upon its coming into being. That is only to be expected. The idea is prevalent in many places that a people's civilisation is expressed only in terms of the Arts. But every great thinker, from Plato to Montesquieu, has agreed that, as it is now universally admitted, that a nation's civilisation is moulded, not by artists, but—to carry the matter back another step—by the policies of government under which its laws are based. What was true of Japan and Greece and Aztec Mexico and Rome will be true of Ireland in the days to come, and economic, not language and folklore, will decide whether it is to contribute anything of value to human progress. Laws sometimes express, but always mould, a nation's individuality. Language and literature and pictorial art and architecture are but the outward expression of national individuality.

CULTURE AND LAW.

If Rome had not had its Twelve Tables, it never would have produced a Virgil or a Horace. Aristophanes and the Parthenon were alike the product of the political system that the Athenians enjoyed. For the Irish mind and Irishmen who aim at resuscitating the long inhibited civilisation that Ireland is supposed once to have enjoyed are faced with an immediate difficulty. The old language poetry has been revived, though the task of fitting it to modern conditions would transform it; but there would be revived, also, the political civilisation. The revival of a sort of ecclesiastical mediævalism would be possible, but there would be very little of the Gael about it.

It seems inevitable, therefore, that a non-British civilisation that has intellectual Sinn Fein so ardently looks will have to be a matter of the few years rather than of old revival. Its perfection will take time, yet in its inception it will have to be something of a phenix. The architects of the New Ireland will be required to build for all time, yet in their inception it will be but evicting the occupants from the old, and the other civilisations that have advanced government and learning and the arts have been up through centuries from seed to fruiting tree. That cannot happen in Ireland. It is possible to envisage in a figure of speech the impetuous and Irish culture developing to beauty, like a flight of chrysalis, or, to be more zoologically exact, like an elementary one in a caterpillar, within the moribund body of Irish civilisation that now obtains; but the solid facts do not justify pursuit of the simile.

Immediate problems of fundamental import have since present themselves. For example, is the Irish Constitution to remain the foundation of the Irish legal system? That is a question that must be decided at once, because nothing is so complex and highly organised that a legal system and a juristic philosophy of some kind must be adopted without delay. If the question is answered in the affirmative, it spells the prompt negation of an Irish civilisation. In the past the English law never has made an Englishman of the Gael, how ever the Gael never adopted, respected, or loved it. It will be otherwise if he adopts it of his own free will. But the adoption will not be, and must be will demand some form of juristic philosophy that appeals to his temperament. But where is that to be found? There are plenty of philosophies of government in existence and a good many nostrums like the so-called philosophy that are not philosophies at all, but hysterical expedients. The latter are alluring because, like ready-to-wear dress, they require only a button-hook instead of skill to adjust them.

If the first and succeeding Irish Parliaments undertake only a haphazard programme of remedial legislation, every item being added as the urgencies of the moment require, the laws will be unjust, inconsequent, a source of continuous litigation, unsatisfactory and inadequate. As in the majority of the United States, where legal systems have been flung together in the same haphazard way (there was the English Common Law basis, but it made no appeal to the mixed European population), there will be no real respect for the law. The citizen will regard the State not as himself, but as an alien tyrant, whose laws he obeys if they happen to suit him or because he must. And it will be worse, however, in Ireland, because when the American States were being established the same haphazard way (there was the English Common Law basis, but it made no appeal to the mixed European population), there was still

FINANCIAL NEWS

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

MARKETS STAGNANT, BUT FIRM, DESPITE LATEST POLITICAL NEWS. RAILS STRONG. COTTONS LOWER. PARENT TYRE DEFERRED WANTED.

There was an exceedingly quiet week-end market on Change yesterday, but, contrary to expectations in view of the cancelling of the Inverness Conference, the prevailing tendency of prices was again satisfactory, even if the upward movement so apparent during the week was less pronounced and subject to some qualifications. The Funds were mostly supported. War Loan 5 p.c. maintained the previous day's top level. Dublin Corporation Stock was firm also. Banks were idle. Munsters alone quoted, and repeated last price. Guinness lines were the turn lower, but closed buyers. Power and Son Pref. were again bid for. An odd lot of Clyde Steam was disposed of at a decline of 2 points. Marconis were rather on offer at last price. Among Home Rails the trend of prices remains favourable. Great Southern and Western was good, and rose a further 1, and the changes in Pre.-Ord. were all in favour of holders. Textiles were a trifle irregular. Cotts closed harder, but Cottons fell back to 35s. Lever Brothers Pref. and Debs. were firmer. Mexican Eagles were on sale, and fell away to 4¼.

The Funds were mostly steady. War Loan 5 p.c. repeated 98¾, and 3½ p.c. Conversion Loan 63¾. Victory Bonds, in a small way, were 1 lower at 78. Dublin Corporation Stock repeated 61.

In Banks, Munster and Leinsters repeated 54. Bank Stock and Hibernians were wanted.

Dealing in Breweries was confined to Guinness issues. The Ord. fell ¼ to 39 buyers, and the Pref. ¼ to 104½. John Power and Son Participating Pref. were still scarce, and closed 18s. 6d. to 19s.

In Maroons, the Ord. repeated 37s. 6d.

Home Rails were still bid for. Great Southern and Western Ord. rose 1 to 48½; Great Northern Pref. ½ to 58¾, and do. Guaranteed 4 to 60. "Wicklow" and "Mullingar" Pref. issues were again bid for at much higher prices.

Dunlops closed quiet. Dunlop Rubber repeated 8s. 3d. Parent Tyre issues were neglected.

Trading, etc., Shares were quiet, and show no change.

Mexican Eagle Oil realised 95s. 7½d., 96s. 3d.

BELFAST.

Business transacted on Belfast Exchange was on a small scale, and several sections of the share list were neglected. War Loan Registered reacted to 88½. London County Westminster and were steady at 14¾. Railway, Corporation and Textiles were unchanged. Robertson, Ladlie Ferguson declined 1 to 9¾. Tobaccos are still in demand, and Imperials repeated 49s. 10½d. Dunlop Rubber further declined to 8s. 0½d. for a small lot. Lagan Vale Estate 3d. lower at 2s. 10½d. Rubber Debentures improved 2s., and Linen Thread Co. New Ord. dealt in at 23s. 7½d.

POLITICS AND STOCKS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Disappointment at the deadlock which was reported to have occurred in the Irish negotiations was responsible for a general marking down of quotations at the opening of business yesterday, though this was more a reflection of market sentiment than due to any selling that took place. At the lower level markets showed signs of resistance, and War Loans, which had been offered down as low as 88⅛, subsequently recovered, closing with a small rise on the day. Home Rails continued sagging, with very little business, such as came to hand being mostly on the selling side. The Foreign market provided a feature in the further weakness of Chinese issues, attributable to the political situation, and at times the stock was rather difficult to dispose of.

LONDON STOCKS DULL.

DEPRESSED BY IRISH SITUATION.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The London Stock markets were adversely affected by the new development in the Irish situation, since it is felt to be a factor of profound importance on the fortunes of the country in the near future, and quotations were lowered in nearly all departments. The gilt-edged market, however, kept its balance, and prices were little changed. Consols fell ¼ to 48¼, the 5 p.c. War Loan ¼ to 89¾, and Victory Bonds ¼ to 78¾. Funding Loan, however, improved ¼ to 73¾. Irish Land stock declined ¼ to 48¼, and India 3½ p.c. ¼ to 57½.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were remarkable for a rise in Mexicans of some importance, Rios advanced ¾ to 66¾, and the 6 p.c. 2 to 55½. Argentine 5 p.c. also rose 1 to 95. Brazilians were dull, and lost 1 at 51. French Loans were unchanged, and easy to the German Thetas. Chinese Bonds were flat. The 5 p.c. fell 1 to 65, the 4½ p.c. 1½ to 58, and the 5 p.c. of 1912 ¾ to 69. These falls were due to messages regarding internal conditions in China. Japanese issues were also lower, and a fall of 1 took place in the 4½ p.c., and of ⅞ in the 4 p.c.

HOME RAILS were lower and depressed, prices being declining, in addition to political troubles, rates of correspondence concerning the Irish railway strike. Great Northern Pref. dropped 1 to 52, and London and North-Western ¾ to 69¼. Great Central fell a point to 49. London and Brighton and South Coast were 1 down at 78, as were Midland Def. at 43¾.

IN FOREIGN RAILS, "Canpacs" were 1 lower at 103. Grand Trunks were a trifle easier, and Canadian Pacific unchanged. There is rather a disposition now to wait and see what happens. Argentines were flat, and again lower. B.A.G.S. fell another point to 93¾, and Central Argentine ¾ to 55¾. Central Uruguay were 1 point lower at 43, and Sante Fes also at 43. San Paulos Ord. also were lower at 108. Antofagastas were 1 down at 89, and Nitrates were 1 down, and Chicago Milwaukie fell 1¼ to 34¾. Chesapeake and Ohio, Erie Pref., Southern Common, and New York-Ontario and Union Pacific all lost a point.

FIRM FINISH IN INDUSTRIAL SECTIONS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

While the volume of business in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday was still restricted, and the opening hours came under a certain amount of depression, there was, nevertheless, more interest noticeable towards the close, and a decidedly better feeling all round. The Irish situation was partly responsible for the initial dullness, but helped by an investment demand, prices appeared to shake off some of the deleterious effects.

In Textiles little of interest was happening, quotations leaving off at the overnight levels in most cases. There was a reaction in British Cellulose to 4s. 3d., or 9d. lower; and in British Dyestuffs Ordinary to 4¼, or easier. Courtaulds also lost the turn at 37s. 3d., but these were practically the only new changes, Ameen Sheets descriptions, J. Barker were 6d. better at 33s. 3d. on the dividend. Chemicals were harder, Salt Union being 13s. or 6d. higher, an improvement repeated in the case of Brunner Mond at 24s. 3d. In Iron and Steels, Guest Keen were easier at 81s. 3d. on the employment scheme, which, however, made a good impression. Vickers (tax free) Pref. were offered, closing 3d. lower at 74s.; and B.S.A. were the turn off at 8s. 6d. Coal Shares were idle; and Ammunitions, Nobel Industries Pref. eased to 44.

In Foodstuffs, Maypoles fell back to 8s., the interim dividend announcement being regarded as disappointing. If it is in accordance with what has been looked for in the market lately, the rate will not attain to last year's level. Hodgson's Ord. rose 4 in the Brewery section, the price closing 54. Tobaccos were quite steady. Imperials being maintained at the improved level of 50s. Electric Lighting issues showed few movements, Uberly City of London declined 6d. to 27s. ex dividend. General Electric Debs. continued a firm market, being well absorbed around 90¾ ex Dividend. North Metropolitan around 93¾ ex Dividend. North Metropolitan and Metropolitan Electric Debs. were both 4 down, and Shropshire Electric Power were again wanted, being further advanced to 9 prem., after being 8½ prem., at which a little profit-taking supervened. Baldwin Debs. were realised after the recent rise, the quotation accordingly falling off to 1¼ prem., rather offered. Lever Pref. were a good deal dearer, after being 93¾ finished at 95¾. Following the Irish news, Dublins were pressed for sale, closing 8s. with the market apparently in an averaging condition. Borax Def. hardened to 71s., Claudius Ash were weak, following the report for the year. Lower 7 p.c. Pref. were a little better at 15s. As also Wall Paper Def. at 6s. 1½d. In Motors, Cubitts Pref. rose 1s. 3d. to 8s. 9d., and Rolls Royce hardened to 21s. There was no business in Austin Motors, but the rumoured temporary closing down of the works is denied in another column. In Canadian Industrials, Brazil Traction lost 1 at 29¾. Hudsons Bay eased in the Land group, the price closing ¼ down at 6¾, with the Pref. also ¼ lower at 3½. Business in Low Temperature Carbonisation ranged between 22s. 6d. and 23s. 9d., with rather less interest noticeable.

MINING SHARES LOWER.

DULNESS RETURNS TO THE KAFFIR DEPARTMENT.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Unfavourable conditions again prevailed in the Stock Exchange yesterday, and business was scarce. Following on the improvement noted on the preceding day, Mines were firm at the opening but trading was anything but brisk, and a dull tendency developed later. Apparently professionals had succeeded in completing covering operations on Thursday, and consequently the usual week-end evening-up of books was not in evidence. At the same time, the political situation gave rise to a certain amount of nervousness, while an improvement in the value of the dollar led to the marking down of the price of gold to 85s. 10½d. per oz. Thus little inducement existed for professional or public buying. Indeed, there are unmistakable evidences that speculators are waiting for a return of more settled conditions. No further news came to hand regarding the enemy shares, and it is pretty evident that the agreement which has been reached between the Union custodian and the Public Trustee refers only to the liquidation of their respective spheres. Views expressed as to the destination of these much-discussed holdings are at present somewhat hazy, but are understood to be under discussion in influential quarters. Closing prices:—

OIL SHARE MARKET DULL.

SHARP FALLS IN THE LEADERS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Business in Oil shares yesterday was once more remarkable for the dullness of the operations, which had a distinctly dull appearance throughout the day, the heavy tendency prevailing in these having a sympathetic effect upon the miscellaneous favourites. Opening prices were generally below those ruling overnight, and, with scarcely any demand, a gradual decline was witnessed under the lead of Shells and Mexican Eagles. These two shares were sold freely on an unwilling market, the sales encouraging bear operations, with the result that substantial losses were shown in the conclusion of business. Paris operators were still holding aloof, there being practically nothing doing with that centre. Although both Shell and Eagles were firm on the preceding day, opening prices were influenced by the lower prices received from New York overnight. Mexican Eagles started dull at 4¾, eased to 4⅝, rallied to 4¾, and came back again to 4⅛ at the end, which left them ¼ down on the day. The New shares also gave way ¼ to 4⅜, and the Preds fell ¼ to 4¼, and involved a loss of ¼ on Canadian Eagles, numerous transactions were recorded, the business in both shares being mainly in the nature of sales. Shells opened at 4⅞, declined to 4¾, rallied to 4⅞, and at the close were no better than 4⅛, at which a decline of ⅛ was recorded, while Royal Dutch, which had a few operations filled in the day, gave way to 38¾. Burmahs, although not so heavily pressed for sale as the foregoing, were, nevertheless, a dull market, falling ¼ to 5⅞. British Controls fell ¼ to 2⅜. Indo-Burmah lost 3d. at 8s. 6d., and Anglo-Persian 2nd Preds. were slightly easier at 22⅜. Closing prices:—
